FORCED TO GIVE IN BY THE STRIKERS

OHIO RAILROAD WILL STOP HAULING COAL.

Strikers Burn a Bridge on the Toledo & Ohio Central—Gov. Matthews of Indiana, Issues a Proclamation to the Miners—Many at Minonk Need Aid.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 31.—Strikers at Glouster, after burning a bridge on the Toledo & Ohio Central road between that point and Corning, have forced the railroad people to agree to discontinue the hauling of West Virginia coal. This coal is mined by non-union men, and has caused much trouble in the state. Tuesday night a number of miners held a mass meeting at Corning and made threats against the Toledo & Ohio Central company. All started toward the railroad yards at Glouster, sending emissaries to gather those not at the meeting. There were 300 in the mob that left Corning, and by the time it reached the doomed bridge it swelled to 500. When the miners reached Glouster they found two freight trains standing ready to pull out north—one a fast freight and the other a local, and both of them contained several cars of coal.

It was at once decided not to allow the trains to move. By strategy one of the trains was moved. This infuriated the mob and they started after the train. When they reached the bridge between Glouster and Corning they immediately set it on fire. They did not stop to see that the structure was entirely destroyed, but went back to Glouster to prevent further efforts to move freight trains. The sheriff finding himself powerless to move the trains at once wired the governor for assistance. Gov. McKinley ordered five companies of the Seventeenth regiment at Chillicothe, Athens, Nelsonville, Portsmouth and Hebron, with Battery H of Columbus to at once proceed to Glouster, but at a later hour countermanded the order and wired the sheriff to use Company B at Nelsonville. Yesterday's episode is but the beginning of a reign of terror in the Hocking Valley, unless a compromise is reached. The strikers are ugly and not only desperate from hunger, but armed with firearms, nitro glycerine, dynamite and other explosives that they threaten to use.

All coal trains in Hocking Valley have been taken off the roads, the miners threatening to burn the bridges if any more scab coal was hauled.

At the mass meeting of members of the American Railway Union here it was learned that in all probability three Ohio railroads would be involved in a strike within the next ten days. The roads are the Toledo & Ohio Central, the Wheeling & Lake Erie and the Cleveland, Lake Erie & Wheeling. These roads have been reaping a harvest ever since the miners' strike was inaugurated hauling West Virginia coal. It is understood that all the employes of the three roads are going into the American Railway Union.

TRIMBLE, Ohio, May 31.—Company A, Seventeenth Regiment, Ohio National Guard of New Lexington, twenty-eight in number, arrived at Gloucester on the late passenger train to suppress the riot. They were surrounded by miners, who took their tents and cooking utensils and threw them into the creek. Several guns were also captured by miners and the Home Guards sought refuge in the schoolhouse. The city authorities wired Sheriff Riley at Athens to send no more troops and withdraw those already there and wait for the trouble to subside. The Home guards were accordingly put in box cars and taken south.

POMEROY, Ohio, May 31.—The strikers who chartered a steamer for their successful invasions on mines in West Virginia will move to-day on Raymond City and other mines on the Kanawha river. While the strikers at Gloucester are obstructing the shipment of West Virginia coal these men will try to stop the mines.

TROOPS CALLED FROM LA SALLE.

Citizens Pass Resolutions Saying They Do Not Fear the Miners.

LA SALLE, Ill., May 31.—In all probability the state troops sent here to preserve order will be sent home. There was a mass meeting of citizens and miners yesterday which lasted until late at night. It was decided that the local authorities, aided by the English-speaking strikers, could maintain order. The resolutions requesting the governor to withdraw the troops say a committee of three strikers will be stationed at each coal mine as guard, each to be paid $3 a day, to prevent disorder and keep the mines from being opened by non-union laborers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 31.—Gov. Altgeld has ordered the two companies of troops at La Salle to return home, there being no further use for them.

CALLS FOR PEACE.

Gov. Matthews Issues a Proclamation to the Miners.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—Gov. Matthews last night issued a proclamation to the striking miners of Indiana which he hopes will have the effect of stopping all future interference with coal trains and thus avoid more serious consequences, which he fears would lead to the necessity of calling out the state militia.

Representatives of the Evansville & Terre Haute and Indianapolis & Terre Haute railroads called on Judge Baker of the United States court and asked for a restraining order to prevent striking miners from interfering with trains. Jude Baker suggested a conference with Gov. Matthews and went with the railroad officials to participate in it. The attorneys for the railroads make the point that the railroads were entitled to relief, and as there was a violation of the inter-state commerce law when the strikers interfered with the movement of cars from one state to another, they were certainly entitled to relief in the Federal court.

TERRE, HAUTE, Ind., May 31.—The miners at Shelburn are expecting the United States marshal and they will not say whether or not they will peacefully surrender the eighteen cars of coal for whose release the local court issued an order. The coal at Rosedale, on the Vandalia, has been released.

TWO HUNDRED NEED AID.

Relief Committee at Minonk, Ill., Furnishes Food.

MINONK, Ill., May 31.—The relief committee appointed at a meeting of citizens Tuesday night to make investigation among the families of striking miners and find how many are in need of help made up a list of twenty households of about 200 persons to-day. This includes all those actually in a destitute and starving condition. Arrangements were made by the committee for such of the strikers as have exhausted their means to get credit for necessaries, the township supervisors agreeing to be responsible for the bills. Two trains of coal passed through on the Illinois Central road yesterday, but no attempt was made to interfere with them.

OFFICIALS AND MINERS CONFER.

McBride and Crawford Meet Bloomington Men—Operators to Meet

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 31.—John McBride, national president of the United Mineworkers of America, and J. A. Crawford, state president for Illinois, visited Bloomington yesterday. A conference was held at Trades Assembly hall, attended only by coal miners of the McLean County Coal company. At 2 p. m. Mr. McBride addressed a large audience at Schroeder's opera house, to which the business men of the city were especially invited, Mr. McFall, president of the local mineworkers' union, presided. Mr. McBride gave the reasons for the national strike. Mr. Crawford made a brief speech. Messrs. McBride and Crawford go to Springfield to attend the conference.

Iowa Troops Are Called Out.

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, May 31.—Adj.-Gen. Prime, with Lieut.-Col. Wilkins, arrived at noon yesterday and carefully looked the situation over and ordered out four companies of the National Guard—two from Des Moines, one from Grinnell and one from Ottumwa—under command of Major John Loper. The Des Moines company arrived at Evans at midnight. The others got to Muchakinock at the same time. It is claimed that the strikers will make a great effort Thursday to stop work. Gen. Prime says that every miner who wants to work will be protected.

Will Act If They Have Power.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 31.—Gov. McKinley and Gov. Jackson of Iowa, who is visiting here, took lunch together and discussed the gubernatorial arbitration scheme. Both took the position that they would serve if formally invited by the miners and operators and provided their decisions would be accepted as final by both sides.

May Disrupt the Telegraphers' Union

DENVER, Colo., May 31.—The defeat of Grand Chief Ramsey may cause a split, which will break up the Order of Telegraphers. Friends of Ramsay say the election of W. V. Powell was accomplished by unfair means. The principal organizers of the order have threatened to join the American Railway Union.

Gov. Pattison Calls for Peace.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 31.—Gov. Pattison has issued a proclamation calling upon the miners of Pennsylvania to lay down all arms and refrain from further riotous gatherings and demonstrations. He says that any further outbreak will at once be followed by a call for the militia.

Vandalia Coal Train Held at Brazil.

BRAZIL, Ind., May 31.—A Vandalia train crew endeavored to move thirty cars of slack off one of the switches east of this city yesterday and attached an engine to the train. A crowd of miners who have been on guard piled up ties in front of the engine, blockading it.

Pana Miners Vote to Strike.

PANA, Ill., May 31.—The striking miners assembled at the opera house. The result of the second ballot was 329 in favor of striking and 60 against striking. There are 750 miners living here. The strike, so far as the 329 men are concerned, is for an indefinite period.

THE PULLMAN ROAD RACE.

The Winner of Yesterday's Great Event a Boy of Sixteen.

CHICAGO, May 31.—When Fred Rau, with the colors of the Morgan & Wright Cycling club, crossed the white tape in Lincoln park yesterday 10,000 voices told him that he had won the Chicago road race. He was the first of the 408 wheelmen, who started in the race. His time, 57:10, was beaten by ten other riders

DID ROBBERS WRECK THE CENTRAL FLYER?

MARSHFIELD HORROR IS STILL A MYSTERY.

Railroad Men Claim that the Switch Was Tampered With—Others Say the Nut Came Off the Fish Bolt Through the Passage Of Trains.

MARSHFIELD, May 31—With each telling the story of the Mannville wreck, the particulars grow more terrible. The list of the dead as far as known is as follows:

BIGELOW, JUDSON, head brakeman Stevens Point.
GEBHARDT, GEORGE, fireman, Stevens Point.
HUBBARD, JAMES, engineer, Stevens Point.
MOSLBY, O. W., news agent, Stevens Point.
RUSSELL, W. B., civil engineer, Stevens Point.
WAGNER, MRS., Butternut.

The injured:

BROWN, MRS. G. H., Irene, S. D., one rib broken; taken to Waupaca.
CHOOER, HENRY, Marshfield, shoulder dislocated.
HOGAN, W. D., a passenger, Butternut; bruised about the head and side.
HARTH, FANNIE, Springdale, Ill.
RYAN, WILLIAM, Sturgeon Bay; ribs broken.
TURNION, ARTHUR, Chicago; cut on head.
WEITZEL, DR., Glidden; hurt internally.
TWITCHELL, E. A., Minneapolis; head cut.

The belt that holds the split in place was broken or purposely removed, leaving the switch partly open. Without the slightest warning the train plunged into it. After thundering along over the ties a distance of twenty rods or more the engine toppled over into the ditch, telescoping the three front coaches, the sleepers remaining upright. The pile of broken car timbers immediately caught fire. All the cars were burned or badly damaged. Some of the dead were burned to a crisp, and it is feared others may prove to have been lost in the ruins.

The opinion prevails that the wreck was the result of criminal tampering with the switch. The train was made up of baggage and two day coaches and three sleepers, and the private car of Howard Morris. Several doctors and nurses left here on a north bound train at 9:35, and the dead and injured were taken on board and brought back to this city. About fifty passengers were on the train. Most of them were in the sleepers, which accounts for the comparatively small loss of life. There are several sidetracks at Mannville. The accident occurred at the first switch.

The division superintendent, a passenger on the north bound train, set to work at once caring for the victims, sending the bodies of those that lived at Stevens Point and a number of passengers down by special train. The wounded were taken to the hotel here and all will probably recover.

There was no water to be had with which to fight the fire and no axes, crowbars, and buckets could be found. Those who fought to free the imprisoned people had no tools of any kind to work with, and were forced to stand aside and watch the fire eat its way back almost the full length of the train. The cars in the rear, which were alone saved from the flames, were unoccupied and pushed back by the passengers.

Fatal Collision at Sharon, Mass.

SHARON, Mass., May 31.—Three men were killed and one seriously injured in a freight wreck here yesterday. An express freight smashed into some freight cars left on the north bound track by the local freight train. The dead are:

GOODWIN, EDWARD T., fireman, of Roxbury.
MCCORD, BENJAMIN, of Boston.
UNKNOWN MAN.

The one seriously injured is a tramp who was stealing a ride. His name is not known.

GOV. WAITE TO ACT.

After a Conference It Is Announced the Governor and Owners Will Meet.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., May 31.—Gov. Waite on reaching Victor at 3 p. m. was transported to Bull hill and met the officers of the union in secret session. It is given out that at the conclusion of the conference the governor was given power to act in behalf of the miners. It is understood that the governor and the representatives of the miners' union are to have a conference with the mine owners at Colorado Springs some time to-day.

The strikers, it is said, have laid mines of dynamite under all the approaches to Bull hill, which can be touched off by electricity, thus destroying the enemy. Two formidable redoubts on the line of the Florence and Cripple Creek railway in the canon near Wilbur were built during the night, and it will be easy for a small force stationed there to repulse 1,000 men.

Habeas Corpus for Coxey.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—An attempt will be made to take the case of the Coxey leaders into the jurisdiction of the Supreme court. Attorneys have drawn an application for a writ of habeas corpus to secure the release of Coxey, Carl Browne and Christopher Columbus Jones on the ground that the law which they were convicted under is unconstitutional.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 31.—Gen. Wilson and his Coxeyites left last night on a Northwestern train for Chicago.

HANDS OFF HAWAII SAYS THE SENATE.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT AT LAST IS ASSURED.

Only One Senator, Roger Q. Mills, Votes Against the Administration that Cleveland Tried So Hard to Bring to an End—Hill Wants No Star Chamber.

WASHINGTON, May 31—In the senate today a resolution was passed declaring the United States would not interfere with the affairs of the Hawaiian Islands and would regard interference with the affair of the Island by any foreign power as an unfriendly act. Mills was the only senator who voted no.

Senator Turpie introduced a resolution for the abrogation of the Russian treaty and Hill offered a resolution for open sessions for sugar investigation. The debate in the house on resurrecting state banks gathers energy as it proceeds. It had been the purpose to get a vote this week, but the demand for time to speak has been so great that the debate is expected to run through the next ten days. The state bank leaders have reached the conclusion since the debate began that they will command about 140 votes for one of the various plans of repeal. They say that with a full attendance this vote may fall short of carrying the repeal, but that it will carry, in an average attendance. These 140 votes represent a rapid growth of state banks' strength since the last congress, when the bill of Representative Richardson (Tenn.) for the unconditional repeal of this tax secured only 84 votes, with 118 against and 127 not voting. This vote of two years ago is now being recalled, as it puts on record many members of the present house. It show that of the present members fifty-eight are committed for repeal and fifty-six against.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCES.

Chicago's Big Display—The War Not Yet Ended in Richmond

CHICAGO, May 31.—Decoration day was marked by the finest military display that has been seen in Chicago since the close of the war. The veterans were reinforced by their grandsons, thousands of the boys carrying muskets like regulars. The procession moved shortly after 3 o'clock in eight divisions and was reviewed by Gen. Miles and staff. It was a holiday as well as a memorial day. Memorial exercises were conducted at the various cemeteries by the Grand Army posts, and all soldiers' graves were decorated with flowers and flags.

WAR NOT OVER YET.

Rebel Orator at Richmond, Va., Renews the Combat.

RICHMOND, Va., May 31.—The unveiling and dedication of the monument to the memory of the private soldiers and sailors of the confederacy was the occasion of a great celebration in Richmond yesterday with impressive ceremonies and an imposing parade. The exercises at the monument were of a simple character and passed off without a hitch, although rain fell heavily during almost the entire time of the program. The orator of the day was the Rev. R. C. Cave. In the course of an address glorifying and upholding the principles for which the south fought, Mr. Cave said:

"The spirits of the confederate dead, glory-crowned, hover over us and beckon us on the paths of patriotism and honor. Their example bids us nobly live for the principles of state sovereignity and home rule on which this government was wisely founded by our fathers, without which no vast territory like ours can possibly remain democratic, departure from which is rapidly hurrying the country to a choice between anarchy and imperialism, and return to which is essential to the preservation of the life of the republic."

CITIES WASHED OUT BY CLOUD BURSTS.

PUEBLO, COL., SWEPT BY DESTRUCTIVE FLOODS.

Two Visitations In Quick Succession—Town of Concunully Under Water and Every House Within a Radius of a Mile and a Half Destroyed—Railroads Affected.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 31—The town Conconnully was swept away by floods last night. Every business house in the town was destroyed and all the residences for a mile and a half were swept away.

PUEBLO, May 31—This city is experiencing the worst flood it has ever suffered. This morning a hundred houses have been washed away. The flood is caused by heavy rains for the last two days and two cloudbursts. All the railroads are suffering from washouts. The Rio Grande is tied up west of Pueblo, the Colorado Midland west of Colorado Springs, and indications are that by midnight the Santa Fe and Missouri Pacific will be washed out east of here, and that no trains on any road will get in or out of Pueblo. Gov. Waite, at Cripple Creek conferring with the striking miners, will not be able to get out for twenty-four hours. Six breaks in the levee bounding the Arkansas river through the heart of the city have flooded a large portion of the business district to a depth of from one to four feet, entailing a loss of $300,000, and rendering several thousand of the poorer class temporarily homeless. No fatalities have occurred.

FORTY INJURED IN A WRECK.

Broken Rails Cause Disaster to a Heavily Loaded Excursion Train.

MACON, Ga., May 31.—The rear coach of a train on the Albany & Columbia branch of the Southwestern railway was overturned by broken rails at Holts yesterday, and forty people were injured, two or three of whom will in all probability die. The train consisted of six coaches loaded with excursionists from Andersonville to attend Decoration exercises at the National cemetery. Those fatally injured are:

JOHN SMITH of Bluffton.
ANDY JONES of Edison.
MRS LITTLE of Hilton, Ga.

None of the others are thought to be seriously injured. About 1,000 people were on the train, the rear car of which was crowded almost to suffocation. The wrecked coach rolled down a steep embankment, and it is a miracle that many were not killed outright, as it contained over 100 people.

Pardoned Bank Robber Is Dead.

NEW LONDON, Wis., May 31.—Phelps Perrin, the pardoned Hurley bank robber, died last night of consumption. The robbery of the Iron State bank at Hurley in 1989 by Perrin and Ed Baker, who is now serving a term in Waupun, was one of the most noted criminal events in the history of Wisconsin.

BALDWIN CASE IS AS DEEP AS EVER.

NO NEW FACTS WERE SWORN TO YESTERDAY.

Witnesses Tell the Same Story as they Did At the Inquest—Otto Buchholz Heard Baldwin Tell Finch Not to Talk to Mrs. Baldwin So Much.

No evidence that the coroner did not hear when the inquest upon the body of Lorenzo F. Finch was held developed during the first day of the trial, although Miss Olive Anderson, Washington Barriage, Otto Buchholz, Benjamin Dugan and Fred Sherwood were sworn. Buchholz's testimony was the most damaging, as he said that he heard Baldwin tell Finch that he must not talk or keep company with his wife so much, or that in substance. He said that the defendant did not speak angrily. The same story was told at the inquest and explained by the defendant by saying that he was joking with the dead man.

Miss Anderson was the first witness. After testifying that her home was in Blanchardville and that she was employed by G. C. McLean she told how she came to attend the party at Mayflower park and how Finch asked her to have a glass of beer. They went outside and while the party stood near the barroom corner a man in light colored clothes appeared and said

"Good evening girls: what are you waiting for?"

"That is our business," said Mrs. Baldwin.

Men Were Strangers.

Just then two men came from a northerly direction and also spoke to them. Mrs. Baldwin told them to go on or something might be done to them. The witness could not describe the last two men, but they had dark clothes on. The man in light clothing was short and thick-set, and had a small black mustache. The witness could not tell who the strangers were, and had not seen them since. She did not see Finch after he went for the beer. The witness saw a fight at that time, which was precipitated by Baldwin's return, and his declaration that "any man could stick up for his wife." She did not know how many men there were in the fight, but Mrs. Baldwin got between her husband and one of the other men, and pushed them apart. At that point someone asked "where the knife was," or that in substance, and soon after Baldwin got out of the fracas and left with his wife. They walked down to the beer hall with Miss Anderson behind them. Baldwin stepped into the beer hall, and when he came out he said that Finch had been stabbed. At the lunch counter near the bar room Baldwin asked the person in charge where Captain Griffiths was. While they were walking toward that place the witness did not see Finch. From there they went to the boat landing, where Baldwin asked a man if he knew where Captain Griffiths was. They then returned to the dance hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin entered, and a short time after they returned to the boat, and the witness and "her partner" and Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin came home on the same boat.

Visited Her Several Times.

Baldwin said nothing about seeing Finch after the latter went for the beer. The witness saw Baldwin the next morning and noticed nothing peculiar except that he had a black eye. He came to the witness' home with his wife at that time and the next time she saw him was two hours later when he and Orville Williams came down and staid about ten minutes their conversation being carried on in the barn. Again in the afternoon she saw Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, they visiting the McLean's for that purpose. The witness thought they were there four or five times. Before the night of the dance they had never visited her and the witness had not been with them before. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin lived across the street from Mr. McLean's barn on Park street.

Cross examination led her to state that the fight did not scare her because she thought it would not amount to much. She re-affirmed that she didn't know how many mer there were in the fight which took place in a dark spot. The witness did not leave Mrs. Baldwin while Finch and Baldwin were absent but was with her all the time. No one had spoken to them except the three strangers and Mrs. Baldwin did not leave her. When the knife was called for the witness did not see Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin and did not know where they were, but found, when she went to look for them, that they were walking ahead of her, toward the entrance of the beer hall. She thought that the stranger had called for a knife before Mrs. Baldwin interfered in the fight. Some one might have gone into the fight from the opposite side without the witness seeing him. The witness saw Baldwin and Finch together while they were sitting on the rostrum in the dance hall. The witness was going to dance with Finch at that time and Mrs. Baldwin stood near her on the dancing floor.

On re-direct examination she re-affirmed that she did not know who the strangers were and did not know where they went.

Sherwood's Story Told.

Fred Sherwood who was the bartender at the beer hall that night was then sworn. He told how the beer hall was arranged and said that he saw Baldwin about 9 o'clock when Baldwin came in and got a glass of beer. The witness said he did not see him again until they were coming back on the boat. Finch also purchased several times, he buying four glasses which he carried out with him. The next time he saw him was two minutes later when Finch came in and said he was cut bad and showed the witness the wounds. The witness gave Finch a towel and at time Ben Dugan, Wash Barrage and Michael Carroll came in and Dugan and Barriage took him out. Finch was not in the barroom more than two minutes in all. Baldwin was not there while Finch was. The screen was in front of the door and Baldwin could not have come inside of the screen without the witness seeing him. He asked Finch who cut him and Finch said he didn't know.

Washington Barriage was then sworn. He was employed at Mayflower Park at the time of the murder and said that he did not see the stabbing but a man told him about it and he went to the beer hall: Finch and Sherwood were there and the witness helped Finch out and took him back of the dance hall in hopes of getting a buggy there to take him to town. Finch asked for a drink of water and Barriage went to get it. The witness saw the place where Finch was stabbed and thought Finch might have been out there fifteen minutes. After getting the water the witness returned to the restraurant. The witness searched the scene of the fight next day and found the four glasses of beer on the ground; the glasses full and being right side up with the handles close together. The witness took the beer glasses to the barroom and did not know at that time, how the beer got there.

Dugan and Buchholz Sworn.

Benjamin Dugan was another employe of Mr. Griffiths' at the time of the stabbing and was there that night. Dugan did not see the fight but learned that of the fight when he saw that Finch was cut. The witness did not know Baldwin or his wife at that time but saw two ladies and a man standing near the dance hall but could not tell who they were.

Otto Buchholz was then sworn. He was at Mayflower park on the night in question and said that he saw Baldwin and Finch talking together and Baldwin objected to Finch's talking or keeping company with his wife so much. The witness did not know what Finch said.

On cross examination he said that he could not give Baldwin's exact words. Baldwin did not seem to be angry at the time and Mrs. Baldwin and Miss Anderson were near them, a step or two distant.

At this point the court ordered a recess until 9 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Griffiths On The Stand.

The taking of the testimony of Mrs. Richard Griffiths, wife of the proprietor of Mayflower park, who is sick at her home, was the first business of the murder trial this morning. the court and officers jury, defendant and attorneys visiting the house for that purpose. Mrs. Griffiths' story was substantially the same as she told at the inquest, the point of it being that Baldwin said to her while she was in the restaurant that "the man who was stabbed had been insulting ladies in the dance hall" and his declaration that Finch had insulted his wife. It was 10 o'clock when they returned and the next witness sworn was Orville Williams, who testified that he attended the dance that night, going up with Finch. The witness said that he met Finch about 9 o'clock and they went to Mayflower park on the same boat. When they arrived at the park they entered the dance hall and separated so that the witness couldn't tell of Finch's whereabouts all the time. The witness learned of the stabbing about 10 o'clock, probably five minutes after it was done. The witness saw a fight at the west side of the hall he being inside the building.

Williams Watched the Fight.

The fight was going on about fourteen feet from the building. The hall was well lighted and the lights from the buildings showed outside, the walls of the dance hall being open nearly all the way around for a space of probably four feet. The witness did not think that the fracas was serious but at length he noticed that one man was partially down and another was standing over him, but he could not recognize them except that one wore a light suit of clothes and stood near, but was taking no part in the fight. The ones who were fighting both wore dark clothes.

The witness kept on dancing and in about five minutes he heard that some one was hurt and went to see about it. He jumped out of the opening in the wall and saw Finch lying on the ground and the latter told him he had

ADDRESS BY PENCE TO OLD SOLDIERS.

TWO CIVILIZATIONS MET ON SOUTHERN FIELDS.

Cromwell and the Stuarts In Blue and Gray, Battled at Gettysburg and Cold Harbor—Lines of Distinction Are Fast Being Obliterated By Closer Acquaintance.

Janesville's Memorial Day observance came last evening. The Congregational church was thronged from the galleries where sat two-hundred fair-faced school children to the front pews where gray-haired veterans gathered. Dr. J. B. Whiting was master of ceremonies and gave a spice to the entertainment by his words of introduction. The service for the dead was read by Commander Charles Viney, the members of Sargent post standing with uncovered heads. The Memorial day order was read by Adjutant W. G. Palmer and there was prayer by Rev. S. P. Wilder. Miss Lou Fenton gave Kate Sherwood's touching poem "In Memoriam." The united choir sang "The Faded Coat of Blue," Mrs. A. O. Wilson singing the solo. Another number by the choir was "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," with O. N. Vankirk as soloist. Miss Myrta Williams was most effective in her reading of "The Soldier's Decoration Day." The applause which greeted her was well earned.

Address of Rev. Mr. Pence.

From Rev. E. H. Pence, the Presbyterian church's brilliant young pastor, came the address of the day. In the course of his remarks Mr. Pence said he stood in a peculiar position. He belonged to another generation. Lincoln was a hallowed memory when first the speaker saw the light. Grant was leading on to Washington in the clothes of the civilian.

"History is made in a day," he declared, "but it takes centuries to write it accurately. The just historian of the war that you fought is not yet born. In my old age I may read his volumes and his estimates. None of you ever will. The last of you will have passed beyond before a panegyrist worthy of you shall have arisen.

"It may interest you to know something of what men are going to say about you after you are dead. Hence what I shall say shall partake more of epitaphy than of plain taffy. We are concerned more with what people say about us at our backs than what they say to us to our faces. In one sense you would care less, in another sense you would care more what my generation says and thinks about you, than what your own generation says and thinks about you."

Cromwell and the Stuarts Here

The speaker held that the war was our heritage from England.

"At the first glance we of this generation marvel," he said "that there ever could have been a sufficient cause for such a war. Back and back we push, until we discover at last the solution of the whole matter. There, in the life of England are two elements, the Puritan and the cavalier as widely divergent as it is possible for men to be with the same civilized surroundings and the same national traditions to unite them. They fought on the plains of Marston Moor, and they hated each other as heartily then as when they met several centuries afterwards on the field of the Virginias. Cromwell and the Stuarts live still in the new world. Their ghosts stalk abroad in the transplanted Puritans and cavaliers from the English soil. Prejudices, passions and pride all came over, and in the new soil of the New World they found a rank growth."

No More of Such Wars.

Such sectionalism, the speaker believed, had been obliterated.

"You men of the north and the south became well acquainted as you looked each other in the eye. You never had quite known each other before. You know there were some folks up in New England and elsewhere who said that they would go down there before breakfast and put down that rebellion. But they found out that the Johnny Reb got up tolerably early, too."

In closing Mr. Pence said: "Your generation is waning fast. Ere long we shall number you on our fingers. In the deathless march of time through the dark swamps of diecase, and past the ambush of calamity and accident one by one you are falling out. Grant and Lee; Jackson and Sheridan; Johnston and Sherman have doffed the war-begrimmed hat and donned the crowns they won, not as soldiers but as men. Grant was your leader on the battle fields of Tennessee and Virginia. You followed him on to death—why not follow him on to life beyond?"

The address was interrupted frequently by enthusiastic applause.

"America," sung by the chorus of two hundred children closed the exercises.

MISTAKE IN A SMALL POX CURE

Dr. Horne's Formula Was Not Correctly Given Last Evening.

A mistake was made in giving the formula for Dr. William Horne's small pox cure last evening. It should have read as follows:

Sulphate of zinc, one grain.
Foxglove (digitalis,) one grain.
Half teaspoonful of sugar.
Mix thoroughly with two teaspoons of water: add four ounces of water.
Dose, teaspoonful every hour. Disease will disappear in twelve hours.
This proportion of sulphate of zinc given at first would make the dose fatal

DAUGHTERS OF EVE.

The discontented woman finds no easy-chair.

Working girls are said to earn better wages in San Francisco than any other American city.

The legislature of Alabama has voted to admit girls to the state university, but not one has yet applied.

This inscription appears in a Wisconsin cemetery, over the grave of a woman, written by her husband: "Tears cannot restore thee, therefore I weep."

In Dutch Guiana the women carry upon their persons all the family savings in the shape of heavy bracelets, anklets, necklaces and even crowns of gold and silver.

The versatility of mind and the ease of manners which a free and social life develops in American women appear in strong contrast with the results of the more formal education which is often seen in Europe.

"Oh, sir, please, I have swallowed a pin!" exclaimed a servant girl, running into her master's surgery. "Never mind, Mary," he replied, deep in study—"never mind; here's another"—drawing one from his pincushion.

Children should be trained to eat slowly, no matter how hungry or what important business is pressing. Much safer a little food well ground than a hearty meal swallowed in haste. Cold food is even more difficult to digest than hot, if taken too rapidly.

The number of women writers, editors and journalists in the United Kingdom is very much smaller than one might expect—only 660, as against 5111 men. There are fourteen women journalists between the ages of fifteen and twenty, 186 between thirty-five and forty-five, and twenty above sixty-five.

In one of the best-known gymnasiums for women in this country the resident physician said in a recent interview: "Dust is almost as much out of place here as it would be in the dissecting room. I am eagle-eyed for its appearance, and I am proud to say that the furniture is hand-dusted—that is, with a cloth. To the best of my knowledge and belief a feather duster has never found admission here."

OH, HOW THEY BATTED CHICAGO CURVES!

ATHLETICS PLAY HORSE WITH WHITINGS.

Score Was 22 to 5—Janesvilles Beaten By Ten Men In the Game At Fort Atkinson—State University Boys Try Conclusions With the Bower City Scientists.

Madison University boys and the Athletics are playing this afternoon. The attendance is good in spite of the chilly breezes that sweep the park.

Chicago Whitings were out-batted and out-fielded by the Athletics. Several runs were made by Janesvilles on wild throws and a good many more by batting the ball half way to the Paul farm. McGinley pitched an excellent game, his work in the box and at bat and Birmingham and Dixon's batting the fratures of the game. This was the score:

Janesville	3	4	0	0	10	1	1	3	0	—22
Chicago	3	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	—5

Base hits—Janesville 16; Chicago, 5. Errors—Janesville 6; Chicago 8. Earned runs—Janesville, 9. Home runs—Birmingham, Scanlan, 2—Base hits—Morrissey, Royce, Adams. Stolen bases—G. Wilbur, Morrissey, Royce. Double plays—Rhiems, Scanlan, Birmingham, Morrissey, Bases on balls—McGinley, 1; Roach, 3. Struck out—McGinley 3; Roach, 8. Pass balls—Dixon, 1; Adams 2. Wild pitch—Roach. Batteries—McGinley, Sullivan and Dixon; Roach and Adams. Time—2:10. Scorer—Clark. Umpire—McGinley.

Fort Atkinson 5; Janesville 0.

Farmer McCarty took a club of world-beaters to Fort Atkinson yesterday. They were willing to tackle any nine men that ever stepped in the diamond, but when the tenth man took a hand that settled them. The power of the tenth man was felt in the third inning. He called a batted ball that landed twenty feet back of the base line a fair ball, and let in three runs. After that the visitors were discouraged. One error let in two more runs for the home team, and the struggle ended. Both batteries did good work—Miller and Lennon for the Fort Atkinson; Lueders and Lempke for the Janesvilles. Minnick and Lutz put up a faultless infield game, and Fred Hagan made a running catch of a fly that set the crowd wild. Except for the warped decision in the third inning the Janesville boys were well treated, and are enthusiastic over their reception. The Fort Atkinsons will play here soon.

Other Local Games.

The second nine of the Y. M. C. A. defeated the Riverview nine by a score of 26 to 29. Nine innings were played. This is the first game for the Y. M. C. A.

The Third ward nine defeated the Second ward nine by a score of 26 to 16. The average age of the Third ward nine was fifteen years, while the average age of the other nine was eighteen years.

Badgers and Barbers played a good game on Bunker Hill yesterday afternoon. The score was Badgers, ;35 Barbers, 33.

Watertowns Play Here.

The Watertown nine will play here Sunday. They come down on an excursion train.

Grocery clerks offer to play Crowley and Buchanan's nine for $15 to $10.

The Golden Eagles go to Madison for a game with the second nine Sunday.

TARIFF-SMASHER WILSON'S PERIL

The campaign which the republicans are arranging to make in the congressional district of W. L. Wilson promises to make the situation very lively for that gentleman. Ordinarily the democratic lead in the district is small. In 1892, out of an aggregate vote of about 43,000, Wilson had a lead of only 1051 over the republican candidate, and that was a presidential canvass, too, when the democracy showed up better than it can in any off year. Cleveland had a much larger plurality in West Virginia in 1892 than he had in 1888. It was a sort of democratic tidal wave year, so far as regards the presidential ticket was, of course helped to a considerable extent thereby.

In the coming canvass the conditions for Mr. Wilson will be materially different. There will be no popular presidential nominee in the field this time to help him through, and his comparative obscurity, which was also a consideration in his favor in 1892, will be absent this time. The republicans have an incentive for opposing him now which they did not have two years ago.

The outlook, therefore, for the great tariff-smasher of 1894 is very far from being rosy. The shining mark which death, political as well as physical, is supposed to love, is offered at the present time by the representative of the Second West Virginia congressional district.

It must have been his name and relationship with the Kentucky m that made the Arkansas democrats repudiate Congressman Breckinridge of that state; it surely could not have been respect for the memory of poor, murdered republican Clayton.

A fashion article in an exchange enumerates the latest table novelties, but it failed to include one thing that has become a novelty on many tables since the democratic party took charge of the government—good meat.

General James B. Weaver, who has probably been more kinds of a demagogue than any other one man in the country, is still calling on the populists in Iowa to help him break into congress.

There is one thing that will always stand to the credit of David B. Hill—he is the only democratic senator who had the nerve to refuse to bow to the will of the trusts.

It is not surprising that Senator Gorman has been sick ever since he attempted to defend the tariff bill. That job was enough to make any man sick.

The administration may have to pay dear for the victory it won in forcing the nomination of Congressman Oates for governor of Alabama.

Taxing the thrifty and frugal for the benefit of the lazy and wasteful is a democratic idea that will never be endorsed by patriotic Americans.

As long as the populists have endorsed Coxey and his schemes they should be called by their proper names—socialists.

Congressman Bryan, of Nebraska, may yet conclude that chasing a populist senatorial shadow is mighty poor business.

Collapse of a Grand Stand.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., May 31.—At the base ball grounds in this city yesterday afternoon an accident resulted in the death of one person and the injury of many others. About 400 persons were on the grand stand, when without any warning it gave way, throwing them to the ground. James McCurdy, a workman, who was underneath at the time, was killed, and many were very seriously injured. Another workman had an arm broken. The stand was new, this being the first day it was used.

Hooping Up

Our elegant line of neglige shirts. You should see them, at 50 cents and upwards. Some dealers ask 75 cents for what we sell at half a dollar.

TOO MUCH WIND

Is being wasted by our competitors, who lead in everything (Fairy tales not excepted) as to the immense amount of business that they are doing—on paper mostly—by selling their wares less than cost. Merchandise that must be sold for less than the cost to manufacture must be exceeding poor or of such an antique date that any price is gain. We do not have that kind of goods in our place. We are making up many suits—busy all of the time and making some profit—the reason is that our customers get honest value for their money—any who have ever dealt with us can verify the above.

IN HATS

We always were in advance on new things—selling so many keeps our stock bright and clean. If we would let the old timers accumulate we would gladly take 50 cents on the dollar for them. Our new straws are in and are charming. Some beauties at 50 cents. One price to all and everything marked in plain English figures.

Coming back on the City of Paris he was made master of ceremonies by the passengers. The trip was a very pleasant one although several icebergs were sighted.

been stabbed. George Posson was standing over Finch and attempting to care for him. The men who were scuffling the witness could not account for, but he saw the man with the light clothes go toward the woods.

Only Two Men In the Fight.

Cross examination brought out the fact that while he said that there only two men in the fight that at the inquest he had said there were four of them engaged in it. Some other points differed but it was only in the smaller details. When he jumped from the dance hall four men were walking rapidly north toward the woods on the west side of the hall. He also stated that he heard Baldwin and Finch singing in the dance hall On his redirect examination he stated that he thought Finch was one of the four men who were going toward the woods, as one seemed to be hurt and the others were helping him along.

Michael Carr was then sworn and said that he was employed at Mayflower Park the time of the murder. The witness did not see a fight that night. He was standing in front of the dance hall when Baldwin and two ladies came up to him and asked if there was any police about there, adding that there was a man out there who was insulting ladies, and wouldn't mind his own business. Carr then went into the beer hall with Ben Dugan and Finch was there. The witness saw the wound in Finch's stomach.

George Cone on the Stand.

George Cone was the next witness, He attended the fatal dance that night but was now a resident of Chicago where his parents reside. The witness heard of the stabbing about 12 o'clock and at the time of the fight he was standing by a tree fifteen feet from the row. While the witness was standing there Baldwin and his wife and Miss Anderson came out and walked to the northern corner of the beer hall. Here one woman and a man sat down in the grass, the other woman stood up, while Baldwin came toward him and passed him and made a circuit toward the west and north and perhaps forty feet distant. Then he turned and went towards the man and the two women. The scuffle began on his arrival and there were four or five men engaged in it. Then some one said "Wait till I get my knife" and Finch came away and said he was stabbed. Baldwin did not come in the direction of the witness. Finch went into the beer hall and the witness followed him. Baldwin was in the fight when the witness last saw him and before Finch left. The witness did not know any of the other men. After the fracas the witness met Baldwin at the lemonade stand while the witness was looking for Captain Griffith.

Cross examination brought the statement from Cone that the night was dark. He reaffirmed that one woman and one man sat down while the other woman stood up and the second man left. No man other than Baldwin passed him before the fight begun and he did not see Finch with the beer.

Cone's Stories Compared.

Comparison with his testimony before the coroner's inquest developed the fact that at the inquest his account of the way the quartette stood was different as at that time he said one woman sat down and he didn't know where the other one was. He insisted that he did not see a man carrying beer and declared that the fight began as soon as Baldwin returned. His story about what was said about the knife varied in language from what he gave at the coroner's inquest. He said that he had not talked with anyone about just what was said about the knife. He also stated that he did not see a woman in the fight but qualified it later by saying that one woman attempted to stop it.

George Keator, with whom Miss Anderson went to the dance was then sworn and said that Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin went up with him and Miss Anderson. The witness did not dance but the other three did. Keator did not see the stabbing but heard of it when Hugh Dover told him about it. Baldwin and his wife came down on the same boat with Keator.

Washington Barriage was recalled and told how the dance hall was lighted. A gasoline torch was put near each end and another in the center. Four or five lanterns furnished light for the music.

Dr. J. B. Whiting, Jr., John Kemmett, John Tuckwood, Mary Hapgood, Albert Finch, brother of the dead man, and Dr. Henry Palmer were examined and at 3:30 the state rested. A ten minute recess was taken.

Mr. Hyzer moved that the jury be directed to find the defendant not guilty at 3:50 o'clock without swearing a witness.

Judge Bennett received the testimony at some length and then granted the motion and discharged the defendant.

PRAISE THE SHAW FOR MANY MERITS.

FAMOUS PIANISTS PRAISE THE GAZETTE PRIZE.

Everybody Who Has Examined the Instrument at S. C. Burnham & Co's Says the Things Said in Its Favor Were Justified—Conditions of the Contest.

What is thought of the Shaw piano by pianists, vocalists and teachers.

This is not hard to find ont.

When The Gazette chose an instrument it picked out the best to be had. The girl who wins this instrument may well rejoice Here are a few statements published in St. Paul papers by those who have used the Shaw:

OSCAR L. Lienau, tenor singer and teacher of the voice writes:

ST. PAUL MINN. AUG. 2, 1892. GENTLEMEN: I am extremely pleased with the Shaw Piano, which I purchased of you. I have used it for some months and consider it a superior instrument. Its clear full tone and elastic touch is a delight not only to myself, but to my many friends, its sweet singing quality being especially noticeable, and I shall be pleased to recommend it to my pupils, etc., I am, yours respectfully OSCAR L. LIENAU.

Frederick Leavitt, the expert piano tuner:

ST. PAUL, MINN., MAY 1, 1892. GENTLEMEN:— As compared with other first class instruments, the Shaw piano has the charming characteristics of each—all in one. Not a break in the scale. No rattling in the action. Never harsh nor metallic in tone. Stays in tune. Such is my admiration for the piano that I would not trade, "even up" for any upright made. My own Shaw has not required any attention during the past year and is in almost perfect tune now. Yours respectfully, FRED. LEAVITT.

Professor William Manner, organist at the Cathedral and leader of the German Mannerchoir Singing society says:

ST. PAUL, MINN., MAY, 6, 1892. I admire the Shaw Piano very much. Their construction is most excellent, the tone is round, rich and mellow, and altogether I consider them one of the very best pianos made today in this country. I can cheerfully recommend them. Respectfully yours, W. MANNER.

Those who wish to learn for themselves the quality of piano offered by the Gazette are urged to visit S. C. Burnham & Co's. store. Several patterns of the Shaw are there shown. These instruments rank in the markets of the country just as Chickerings, Steinways and Knabes, the four occupying first place. Everybody who has seen the Gazette piano is enthusiastic in its praise. It has a pure ringing tone, and its action is very fine. These qualities are what would be expected of a Shaw piano and The Gazette made no mistake in choosing that instrument.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

SPECIFICATIONS.

Specifications for grading, curbing and paving that portion of South River street, in the city of Janesville between the southerly ine of West Milwaukee street and the northerly line of Pleasant street.

GRADING.

Said street shall be graded so as to bring its surface at a uniform depth of eleven inches below the established grade of the same and in doing said grading, the earth is to be scooped off to the required depth, so as not to loosen the soil below.

Also in all places in said street where trenching has been done for water, gas or sewer pipes or connections of any kind, such place shall be made firm and secure against unequal settling.

If any filling is done in bringing said street to this grade it must be done with sand or gravel free from all perishable materials.

After the surface has been shaped to conform to the pavement above, it shall be thoroughly rolled or tamped to make it secure against any settling; which having been done a ballasting of at least four inches of clear sand or fine gravel shall be spread in such a manner, that the sub-grade of said street shall be uniformly eight inches below the established grade thereof; said ballasting to be well rolled or tamped so as to make it firm.

The cross section of said street, from gutter to gutter being shaped so as to form a segment of a circle, having a rise of one foot for its ordinate at the center of said street.

The grading of said street and the ballasting thereof shall be done under the directions of and to the satisfaction of a special committee appointed by the mayor of said city.

All material excavated over and above what is used in embankment shall be deposited by the contractor beyond the bounds of said street without extra charge.

The work shall be carried on in such a manner so as to impede and obstruct travel on said street as little as possible; and yet be consistent with the speedy and economical completion of said work.

CURBING.

The curbstone is to be of good, durable, Waukesha limestone, free from seams, cracks or other defects.

Each stone shall be not less than three feet long, twenty four inches wide, and four inches thick.

The top of said curbstone is to be dressed to a true line and the face to a depth of ten inches; and the ends of each stone to a depth of fifteen inches, so that close joints shall be formed

Said stones are to be firmly set on their edges to conform to the alignment and grade given by the above mentioned committee and are to securely rest on a bed of fine gravel at least six inches thick, well tamped and to be thoroughly packed with sand or fine gravel at least six inches in width at their backs.

Provided however, that any curbing now upon said street, that shall in the judgment of said committee substantially comply with the above requirements, shall be permitted to remain in place, or be reset, if the alignment of the street shall so require.

FLOORING.

The surface of said street, having been brought to conform to the sub-grade of the same and having on its surface a ballast of at least four inches of good clean sand or fine gravel, well and thoroughly tamped; there shall be laid lengthwise of said street a flooring, formed of good, sound, green hemlock boards free from rot, sap, wind shakes or other defects, one inch thick, and from eight to twelve inches wide, and sixteen feet long; said boards are to be laid in close contact with each other and to break joints through, their edges to be straight and their ends sawed off square, so as to form close joints, and present a smooth, compact and uniform surface, conforming to the sub-grade of said street, preparatory to laying the paving blocks.

PAVING.

Between the curbing on either side of said street and resting upon the flooring above specified shall be a paving of cedar blocks, which shall form the road bed of said street.

Said blocks shall have a uniform length of six inches, sawed from good, sound, live cedar posts, of from four to ten inches in diameter free from bark, rot and other defects; they are to be placed on their ends upon the flooring, in close contact with each other, and to be kept well driven up so as to form close joints, and a firm road bed.

During the progress of laying the paving, blocks of different diameters must be so arranged and placed with reference to each other, as to leave the smallest practical space between the blocks.

Spaces approaching a square form must be avoided, and no split blocks of less than three inches in diameter will be allowed.

All spaces between the blocks are to be filled with screened gravel of a quality, size and screening satisfactory to the special committee hereinbefore mentioned. The same to be thoroughly tamped with proper tools until solid; and refilled and retamped until the spaces have been completely filled with firm and solidly tamped gravel; the whole work to be done under the supervision and to the satisfaction of said above mentioned committee.

After the filling shall have been completed, the top surface of the paving shall be swept off with a coarse broom, and left uncovered until it has been inspected by the special committee, above mentioned. After such inspection and acceptance, the paving shall be covered with fine screened gravel to a depth of one inch.

CROSS WALKS.

At the intersection of Dodge street and said River street there shall be four cross-walks, which shall be made by raising the pavement in the usual manner three inches rise in the center of the walk; the same to be twelve feet wide and so constructed that the crown will be even and of such grade as directed by said above mentioned committee.

The street upon its completion shall be left free from rubbish and impediments of all kinds.

That portion of said street adjacent to and adjoining the improvement, and those portions of cross streets adjoining the same shall be left in as good condition, as just preceding the commencement of the work herein specified.

All connections of the pavement with the sewerage, gas or water openings shall be substantially and properly made, and the street upon completion shall have a uniform smooth surface, conforming to the final grade and crown of said street, and it shall be left by the contractor in perfect order and condition.

It is expressly understood that the contractor shall not be entitled to any allowance on account of injury to said street, by reason of rains or otherwise during the progress of the work herein specified; or before the same has been completed and accepted as herein stated.

It is expressly understood that the price per square yard named in the contract for paving said street, shall cover the whole cost of grading, furnishing, preparing and laying the floor and paving blocks as herein specified and contemplated: and that the price per lineal foot named in the contract for curbing, shall cover the whole cost thereof, including the taking up and removing of old curbing, where required, and the furnishing, placing, setting and properly securing in position new curbing as herein specified. No extra allowance whatever will be made.

These specifications are hereby declared and understood to be a part of the contract for grading, curbing and paving said street and doing all the work in reference thereto so far as the same are included in said specifications.

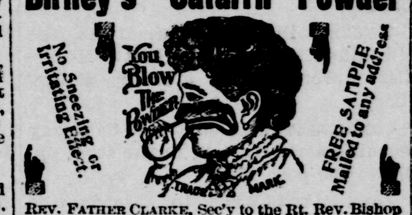
Catarrh AND COLD IN THE HEAD

relieved instantly by one application of

Birney's Catarrh Powder



REV. FATHER CLARKE, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes;

GENTLEMEN:—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic over it. The good sisters speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering.

M. E. FERGUSON, Custodian U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes:

GENTLEMEN:—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrhal Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 18 inches from my ear I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve.

SOWING AND REAPING.

For bloom we sow one sort of seed,
Another answers hunger's need.
Weeds only propagate their kind,
But leave abundant seed behind,
Which, if you scatter heedless, know,
You're sure to reap just what you sow.

A youth, industrious and pure,
With noble aims, is promise sure
Of proud achievement's heritage,
Of worthy manhood, honored age,
And, doth the harvest ripen slow,
You're sure to reap just what you sow.

Alas! youth often is too blind
To see the needs of heart or mind.
A wilderness of tares appears—
Sure fruitage of the wasted years.
From evil seed good will not grow.
You're sure to reap just what you sow.

MY SUICIDE.

Yes, I have wished to die.

It was just after receiving the assurance that Amelie was false to me.

Was it indeed Amelie—this perfidious coquette? Only think of it. She held my life in her little hand, and I am not now even sure of her name. Young men, this may astonish you, but you will learn better in time.

I was young then—quite young, and I no sooner learned of my misfortune than I determined to end my life. My first intention was to shoot myself on her stairway, but I bethought me of the crowds that would see me there and of how Henriette—was not that her name? —would ridicule me, so my amour propre came to my rescue.

"No," I said to myself, "there must be no excitement, no noise. The wounded bird conceals himself behind a tuft of grass. Thus I wish to die—in some corner—isolated, lost, forgotten."

In this elegiac frame of mind I took the 5:30 train for Melun. It deposited me at dusk, about 100 steps from the Golden Lion—a well kept hotel, with airy rooms, good beds and an excellent table.

"What does monsieur wish?" asked a little waitress, whom I have since found to be very pretty.

"Nothing."

I was not hungry. I went to bed. My sleep was fitful, and every instant I thought I saw Victorine—I believe her name was Victorine—pass by on the arm of my rival.

Then I struck out with my fist against the wall, the iron bedstead or the marble top tale.

I was much bruised next morning, but what mattered it, since I was so soon to die?

I went in quest of a rope. I had believed formerly that, when one wished to hang oneself, nothing could be easier than to find a rope. A sad mistake. In my search I traversed the entire hotel to no purpose. The little waitress—the one whom I have since found is so pretty—demanded of me:

"But what does monsieur wish to do with a rope?"

At last, with a length of hemp in my pocket, I left the hotel and made my way to a spot in the woods where I had often been before. I found here, behind an inextricable tangle of foliage, the same inviting retreat where I had once lingered to dream. There could certainly exist no more appropriate spot for the deed I now contemplated.

While walking along I had thought of Berthe — possibly her name was Berthe—and I cursed her with all my soul. Then I looked at my rope. I measured it. I tested its strength. It was not the sort of a rope I wished. It appeared to be too short and too large around. I was vexed. You can scarcely imagine how an annoyance of this sort may influence one's ideas.

And here was another vexation. Upon reaching the chosen spot I was disagreeably surprised to find it occupied by another. A person, with his back turned to me, was engaged in fastening a rope to a branch above his head—the very branch which I had selected for my own.

"What are you doing there?" I demanded of him.

He faced me suddenly.

"What concern of yours is it?" he asked.

"You think perhaps that I do not divine your intention," I cried.

"And if I wish to kill myself that is altogether my affair."

"Kill yourself?"

I looked at him. He seemed to be an amiable young fellow, with an open countenance, sympathetic eyes and an interesting pallor.

"So you wish to kill yourself." And suspecting him to be the victim of an unhappy love affair, I added, "About some worthless woman?"

"Sir!" he cried.

"Poor idiot!" I thought. "Lovers are all alike—he defends her even yet."

The stranger was silent.

"Will you permit me to give you a bit of advice?" I inquired. "Leave your rope where it is"—I had noticed that it was better than mine—"go home. You will thank me for this after awhile."

He shook his head.

"I want to die."

"Don't prepare any poignant regrets for the morrow," I continued, with sweet insistence. "I repeat what I have said. After you are buried you will bemoan your precipitancy, and then it will be too late."

"You say this because you do not know what has happened to me."

"But I suspect."

"No, you cannot have even a suspicion. Oh, sir, a woman whom I adored, for whom"——

And he told me his story. Incredible coincidence! It was absolutely my own! This comparison set me thinking. "Your silence shows me your approval," said Charles. I had just learned his name to be Charles.

"Not at all," I cried. I did not wish to appear like a weathercock. "There is nothing in your history which justifies you in having recourse to the end of a rope."

Charles had begun to interest me. "Listen, my friend, you are out of your reason. Why should you wish to be treated more kindly than other men whose sweethearts play them false every day?"

"But they are not as grossly deceived as I have been."

"I beg your pardon."

"No, no."

"Oh, yes."

"No."

"I know whereof I speak. And now you are free to make another choice—a much better one. There are plenty of them."

"Better than she? That is not possible."

"Indeed."

"Her equal does not exist."

"But she"——

"Oh, no."

"Ah, well, in the first moments, one may have such ideas, but wait a month and you will see."

My words sounded so replete with wisdom that, little by little, I began to find pleasure in listening to myself. I continued:

"What good would it do you to die? I would like you to tell me how it could advance your interests? The woman who deserted you has or has not a heart. If she has one"——

"Oh, but she has not."

"Naturally she has not. Your death then would only flatter her. She will pose ever afterward as having been the cause of a suicide. Do you wish her to do so? And the world—what kind of funeral oration will it deliver over you? It will ask, 'Was he such a fool as that?' Yes, Charles, you will be justly treated as an imbecile."

I grew eloquent. It was because I had begun to feel that I was defending my own cause. All that I should have said to myself I said now to Charles—to my friend Charles, for I loved him already, with the same affection that he gave me in return. There was such conviction in my voice that Charles, yielding, fell into my arms.

"Do with me what you will," he cried.

"Very well," I said to him, with a sigh so profound as to reveal the empty void in my stomach, "let us go to breakfast."

I conducted him to the hotel. Our emotions increased, and our appetites were terrible.

The table where we sat, with its snowy linen, its sparkling candles, its dainty viands, only added to our hunger.

When a thick steak with potatoes had enveloped us in its savory odors; when, shared between us, its vermilion juice stained our knives; when, after the first mouthful, feverishly devoured, we had swallowed a cup of coffee, we looked silently at each other, while our eyes said for us:

"Ah, life is sweet."

"But suppose I had not met you!" sighed Charles, his heart filled with gratitude.

And I thought on my own part, "The deuce! If I had not met him!"

"Do you know," began the young man after another mouthful, "it was an unheard of piece of good luck that you should have gone to the very spot in the woods where I chanced to be."

I said nothing.

"Ah," he exclaimed suddenly, "it must have been some good genius who led you there!"

My face flushed in spite of me.

"You will not believe me," I told him, "but I went there as you did—to hang myself."

"Ah, bah!"

My companion burst out laughing.

"That is too good," he cried.

And we touched glasses.—Translated From the French For Romance.

After I had taken one bottle of your 'Favorite Prescription' I could see a great change in my strength and less sick headaches. Continued taking the medicine until I had taken seven bottles of the 'Favorite' and one of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I am now able to do housework for myself and husband and two children aged nine and five. I also take dressmaking, and enjoy walking a mile at a time, when I can have the time to do so. And I am sure it is all due to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as I know I was failing fast before I commenced to take it."

SPECIFICATIONS.

Specifications for grading, curbing and paving that portion of South Main street in the city of Janesville, state of Wisconsin, between the south line of East Milwaukee street and the south line of South First street, except so much of said street as is occupied by and lies between the track of the Janesville Street Railway Company including a strip on either side of said track one foot in width and adjoining the rails of said track.

GRADING.

Said street shall be graded so as to bring its surface at a uniform depth of nine (9) inches below the established grade of the same; and in doing said grading the earth is to be scraped off to the required depth so as not to loosen the soil below. Also in all places in said street where trenching has been done for water, gas, sewer pipes or connections of any kind, such places shall be made firm and secure against unequal settling. If any filling if done in bringing said street to this grade, it must be done with sand or gravel, free from all perishable materials. After the surface has been shaped to conform to the pavement above, it shall be thoroughly rolled or tamped to make it secure against settling; which having been done a ballasting of two (2) inches of clean sand or fine gravel shall be spread in such a manner that the sub grade of said street shall be uniformly seven inches below the grade thereof, said ballasting to be well rolled or tamped so as to make it firm. The cross section of each side of said street from the gutter to the street car track being shaped so as to form a segment of a circle whose radius shall be three hundred feet, and at the center of the street to correspond with the grade of said street; the gutters to be placed at such grade and depth as the city engineer shall direct. The gutters at a point two feet out from the curbing are to be three inches lower than at the curbing.

The grading of said street and the ballasting thereof shall be done under the directions of and to the satisfaction of a special committee appointed by the mayor of said city for that purpose.

All stone and block cross walks which shall be removed in grading said street and also all stone rubble and such gravel as the alderman of the third ward shall see fit, which is excavated in doing said grading and is not used in embankment shall be deposited for the said use and benefit of said city by the contractor at such place or places, not more than one block away from the above designated street, as the said aldermen shall direct, without extra charge All other material excavated over and above what is used in embankment shall be deposited by the contractor beyond the bounds of said street without extra charge beyond the price paid for excavating the same.

The work shall be carried on in such a manner so as to impede and obstruct travel on said street as little as possible and yet be consistent with the speedy and economical completion of said work.

CURBING.

Curbstones shall be placed in such places as the special committee shall direct and are to be of good durable Waukesha limestone or other stone of equally good quality, free from seams, cracks or other defects not less than three feet long, twenty-four inches wide and four inches thick. The tops of said curbstones to be dressed to a depth of ten inches from their tops; the ends to be dressed to a depth of fifteen inches, so as to form close joints with each other.

Said stones are to be firmly set on their edges to conform to their alignment and grade given by the above mentioned committee, and are to securely rest on a bed of fine gravel at least six inches thick, well tamped and to be thoroughly packed with sand or fine gravel at least four inches in width at their backs. The stone sidewalk in front of the two store numbers 18 and 20 South Main street is to be cut back to a true line so as to be in true alignment with the curb on either side of it.

STRINGERS.

The surface of said street, having been brought to conform to the sub grade of the same; and having on its surface a ballast of at least two (2) inches of good clean sand or fine gravel, well and thoroughly tamped, there shall be laid at right angles across said sections of said street and at intervals of four feet apart, from center to center, good sound, well seasoned durable pine stringers, one inch thick, eight inches wide and not less than fourteen feet in length. Said stringers shall be free from rot, sap, wind shake or other defects; they shall be well and firmly imbedded in the sand or fine gravel forming the ballasting so that the top surface of said stringer shall accurately conform to the sub-grade of said street. When said stringers are thus laid, the sand or fine gravel between them shall be carefully dressed with a straight edge, so as to insure that the top surface of the ballasting between the stringers shall present a smooth, compact and uniform surface, conforming to the sub-grade of said street, preparatory to laying the flooring.

FLOORING.

Resting on the stringers and the ballasting between them, shall be a flooring formed of good, sound green hemlock boards, free from rot, sap, wind shakes or other defects, one inch thick and from eight to twelve inches wide, and sixteen feet long; they are to be laid lengthwise of the street, in close contact with each other and to break joints throughout, their ends being sawed off square so as to form close joints

PAVING.

Between the curbing and street car track on either side of said street and resting upon the flooring prepared as above specified, shall be a paving of cedar blocks, which shall form the road bed of said street. Said blocks shall have a uniform length of six inches, sawed from good, sound, live cedar posts, of from four to ten inches in diameter, free from bark, rot or other defects. They are to be placed on their ends upon the flooring in close contact with each other, and to be kept well driven up so as to form close joints and a firm road-bed. During the progress of laying the paving, blocks of different diameters must be so arranged and placed with reference to each other, as to leave the smallest practical space between the blocks. Spaces approaching a square form must be avoided, and no split blocks of less than three inches in diameter will be allowed. All spaces between the blocks are to be filled with screened gravel of a quality, size and screening, satisfactory to the above mentioned special committee. Said gravel is to be thoroughly tamped with proper tools until solid, and refilled and retamped, until the spaces have been completely filled with firm and solidly tamped gravel. The whole work to be done under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the above mentioned committee. After the filling shall have been completed the top surface of the paving shall be swept off with a coarse broom, and left uncovered until it has been inspected and accepted by the special committee. After such inspection and acceptance, the paving shall be covered with fine screened gravel to a depth of one inch.

CROSS-WALKS.

There are to be four cross-walks at the intersection of Court and and Main streets and four at the intersection of South First and Main streets. Sidewalks shall be made by raising the pavement in the usual manner; three inches rise in the center of the walk, the same to be twelve feet wide and so constructed that the crown will be even and of such grade as directed by said special committee.

The street upon its completion shall be left free from rubbish and impediments of all kinds. That portion of said street adjacent to and adjoining this improvement, and those portions of cross streets adjoining the same, shall be left in as good condition as they were just preceding the commencement of the work herein specified.

All connections of the pavement with sewerage, gas or water openings shall be substantially and properly made, and the street upon completion shall have a uniform smooth surface, conforming to the final grade and crown of said street, and it shall be left by the contractor in perfect order and condition. It is expressly understood that the contractor shall not be entitled to any allowance on account of injury to said street, by reason of rains or otherwise, during the progress of the work herein specified; or before the same has been completed and accepted as herein stated.

It is further expressly understood that the price per square yard named in the contract for paving said street, shall cover the whole cost of grading, furnishing, preparing and laying the stringers, flooring and paving blocks as herein specified and contemplated, and that the price per lineal foot, named in the contract for curbing, shall cover the whole cost thereof, including the taking up and removing of the old curbing, where required, and the furnishing, placing, setting and properly securing in position new curbing as herein specified. No charge shall be made for curbing unless in such places only where new curbing is directed to be put in by the special committee. No extra allowance whatever will be made.

These specifications are hereby declared to be a part of the contract for grading, curbing and paving said street. O. G. BLEEDORN,
City Engineer.

A FAMOUS RESORT

Hot Springs, Garland county, Arkansas, has been a resort for invalids since the first cabin was built there in 1809. Legend identifies these springs with the "Fountain of Youth" of Ponce de Leon. The town and springs are on a reserve of four sections, set aside by congress in 1832.

There are 71 springs in number with a total discharge of 335 gallons per minute. The well known efficacy of the water in the treatment of chronic cases of the skin, joints, and mucous membranes is due without doubt to their temperature and not to their mineral constituents. The waters are no doubt beneficial in the cases of neuralgia and rheumatism, but the great remedy, Sanspareil, sold in Janesville, by all druggists, is guaranteed to produce more favorable results. Don't experiment with inferior remedies. Try Sanspariel for rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, tumors, wens, goitre, sprains, sore throat, inflammation of the bowels, etc.
